Gen. Pershing's Men Are Told To Expect Brutality If Captured By the Enemy

KILLING OF U. S. SENTRY IS HELD UP AS EXAMPLE

General Pershing's publication in efficial orders of the fact that Germans had murdered, after capture, lone American sentry by cutting his throat, was capable of only one interpretation to American officials

That was that the American com manding general intended that his men should know right from the start what they can expect at the hands of brutal enemies.

No Open Reprisal. It will not be followed by any oper reprisal. Americans will not fight that way. But if the number of Germans taken prisoner shall be small-here the American troops.

murder, officials said today, is that Americans can expect to be treated as are the Canadians. The German have murdered Canadian prisoners subjected them to unspeakable tor ture, and in every way tried to crush the morale of the Dominion forces from the first moment that they entered the fray. Germans, it is known never take a Canadian prisoner if they can help it. Complete proof to this effect is plenty at the headquarters in Ottawa. And it is believed here that this will be their atie in the case of Americans, Made in Bullets.

The announcement of cruelty was nanders. It salu:
